

INFORMATION ON PAYMENT DEADLINES AT RAIFFEISENBANK A.S.

Introduction

The Bank and Client agreed that the Bank will execute Payment Transactions on the Banking Business Days and by the cut-off times as agreed below. Only days that are Banking Business Days can be considered the "D" day or additional days according to the below schedules. For the purposes of executing Payment Transactions, every business day is considered a Banking Business Day. However, solely for the purpose of transferring Funds from a Multi-Currency Account to another Multi-Currency Account, as well as for the purpose of executing an Instant Payment and, if applicable, an Incoming Credit Transfer executed similarly to an Instant Payment, every calendar day is considered a Banking Business Day. The moment of acceptance of a Payment Order occurs on day "D", unless otherwise specified. In connection with the crediting of a Payment Transaction amount to a Single-Currency Account, except for Payment Transactions executed similarly to an Instant Payment, and in connection with the acceptance of a Payment Order from a Single-Currency Account, the Operating Hours are the period between 8:00 and 18:00 CET (or CEST, if applicable). For Payment Orders accepted through Business Locations the Operating Hours are the opening hours of such Business Locations.

The cut-off times specified in this document, before which the Payment Order must be accepted in order for a Payment Transaction to be executed, are deemed to be moments close to the end of the Bank's Operating Hours. As regards Payment Orders received by the Bank after expiration of the moment close to the end of the Operating Hours it holds that the moment of acceptance of the Payment Order occurs at the beginning of the next Operating Hours at the earliest.

The capitalized terms contained herein have the meaning given to them in the GBC and Product Conditions (particularly the Technical Conditions and Product Conditions for Direct Banking Services, if applicable).

In the case of clients who are natural persons – entrepreneurs or legal entities and have entered into an agreement with Equa Bank a.s. or the Bank that identifies the Terms and conditions of payment services of Equa bank for entrepreneurs and legal entities (hereinafter also referred to as "Equa Bank PS Conditions") as its part, the obligations of the Bank and such clients arising from such an agreement with regard to the definition of the Bank's operating hours, cut-off times for the delivery of Payment Orders and deadlines for the execution of Payment Transactions shall be governed by these Information on Payment Deadlines at Raiffeisenbank a.s. instead of the Equa Bank PS Conditions, and references to the Equa Bank PS Conditions contained in the relevant agreements shall be deemed references to the Information on Payment Deadlines at Raiffeisenbank a.s. to the above extent.

The moment when the Bank receives a Payment Order directly from the Payer or as initiated by the Recipient is considered the moment of acceptance of the Payment Order. If deferred maturity of the Payment Order is agreed, such an agreed moment is considered the moment of acceptance of the Payment Order. If the moment of acceptance of a Payment Order falls outside the Operating Hours, it holds that the Payment Order was accepted at the beginning of the following Operating Hours.

This Information on Payment Deadlines at Raiffeisenbank a.s. is effective as of 14 November 2022.
